

James Fullard

September 17, 2025

Mr. James Fullard, son of the late Mr. Lossie Fullard and Mrs. Mary Sue Fullard Commander, was born on September 11, 1932, in Lee County, South Carolina. He peacefully departed his life early on Wednesday, September 17, 2025, at Oak Hollow Rehabilitation and Center, after a short illness. He was 93 years old.

Mr. James attended Lee County Schools and, in his younger years, he tried his hand as an employer at Lazy Boy in Florence, South Carolina. However, he found his true passion in farming, dedicating many years of hard work to the land until his retirement. Alongside his love for farming, James had a deep admiration for the Atlanta Braves, and he was a devoted fan, often watching their games on TV.

Mr. James was well known for his willingness to help others whenever he could. His love for family and friends was immeasurable, and his wisdom, sense of humor, and gentle nature left a lasting impression on all who had the privilege of knowing him. He was a true friend to many and his memory will continue to be cherished by those whose lives he touched.

Mr. James, a lifelong member of the New Zion Baptist church #1 Deacon Ministry served faithfully for many years, offering his guidance and support to the church until his health began to decline.

James is survived by: three sisters, Annie Singletary, Ellen Hemingway and Marilyn (Jefferson) McGill; two sisters-in-law, Nora P. (Danny) Attenborough and Geraldine Green; a loving niece, Brenda (Carl) McAllister; a host of nieces, nephews, and other relatives.
