“ I was the proud big teenage cousin. I loved taking Thresa and Connie with me. When she was about 5 or 6 my best friend got married. So I made Theresa a beautiful white junior bride wedding dress. The crown was rimstones for her short afro and the train was made of white lace with a satin red, black and green ribbon down the middle to match the bride. She was so beautiful, proudly walking down the aisle with her head up high. On behalf of friends, family and love ones of Boston, Massachusetts we send our love and condolences.
